

McAdoo

18 April 1972

Mr. Thomas Harrington
Building Manager
McLean Field Office
General Services Administration

Dear Mr. Harrington:

I should like to call to your attention a fine deed on the part of one of your employees. In the performance of her duties on the evening of 12 April, Mrs. Daisy McAdoo found my billfold on the floor in the suite of offices assigned to the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence. Mrs. McAdoo immediately notified the Office of Security, and my wallet was returned to me the following morning.

Mrs. McAdoo's alertness, prompt action, and integrity are to be commended. Although my billfold did not contain a great amount of cash, I would have sorely felt the loss of personal identification documents and credit cards. I am indeed grateful to her.

Sincerely,

/s/

Lieutenant General Vernon A. Walters, USA
Office of the Deputy Director
Central Intelligence Agency

Dear General Walters:

I appreciate your letter concerning Mrs. Daisy McAdoo. We expect our employees to perform competently and honestly, but it is always gratifying to receive a letter such as yours citing an example of such conduct.

I personally delivered your letter to Mrs. McAdoo and also extended my thanks to her. Further, I will see that recognition for her conduct is placed in Mrs. McAdoo's official personnel folder. Labor Force employees especially appreciate a thoughtful gesture such as the one you extended in behalf of Mrs. McAdoo. Thank you for taking the time to recognize a good deed on the part of one of my employees.

Sincerely,

T. W. Harrington
